The Dog Days of Summer

The weather is hot, and back to school season is upon us. The dog days of summer are from the end of July through August and they are the hottest times of the year. When the weather is so hot, it is important to keep yourself and your pets cool.

According to the Pet Health Network, here are the things you can do to protect your pets from the heat!

- o Never leave your dog in a hot car! On a 78° day the temperature in your car can reach 90° in the shade and up to 160° in the sun! It can take just minutes for your pet to develop heat stroke.
- o Keep your dogs paws cool. When the sun is out, surfaces like asphalt or metal can get very hot!
- o Provide access to fresh drinking water and shade. Dogs get much thirstier than we do when they get hot, and other than panting and drinking, they have no other way to cool down.
- o Dogs get sunburns too! Dogs with short or light-colored coats are the most susceptible to burning in the sun.
- o Watch your dog's weight. A pet that maintains a healthy weight throughout their lifetime will live 2-3 years longer than an overweight pet.

New Position for one of our Alto Family Members:

Congratulations to Paula W! Paula has been working in the field for us servicing clients as a Certified Medical Assistant. Now Paula will be joining our family in the Blue Ash office working as a Human Resource Assistant. She will be assisting the Recruiters and we are very happy to have her here!
